STOP THE WORKFARE
INDUSTRY PROFITING FROM POVERTY!

The 'Welfare to Work' industry are holding their annual conference today at Senate House. Politicians, companies, and charities will be plotting ways of further gutting the welfare system, expanding forced unpaid labour, and worsening conditions for those in paid work.

We're here to stop the poverty profiteers! Join us in making noise to let them know that we won't tolerate this attack on the waged and unwaged!

The University of London is already deeply complicit in attacking people on low incomes through their outsourcing of Senate house workers. The 3 Cosas campaign has been massively effective and inspirational in challenging this and we show our solidarity with them. The University of London's hosting of this conference is yet another example of the University's role in exacerbating poverty.
